
IFGE Atlanta Action '95

If you believe in the right to free expression of gender . . .

If you believe that limiting anyone simply because of their genitals is wrong . . .

If you want to help change our world, to free people from oppression . . .

then you need to be at IFGE Atlanta Action '95! The International Foundation for Gender Education has been one of the leading groups fighting for the acceptance of all humans, regardless of race, color, creed, orientation, sex or gender since 1978. Our ninth annual conference will draw leaders from all over the world who are working to achieve such breakthroughs as the new San Francisco Transgender Rights Ordinance. We are not working for special rights, just to make sure that basic human and civil rights are extended to all people, regardless of their gender expression.

In lively presentations, exciting open forums and moving ceremonies, we will share our thoughts, our feelings and our strength, empowering each other to help change our world.

Conference Highlights:

Wednesday, March 15

The National Transgender Town Meeting, focused on Community: How do we empower each other?

An all day "boot camp" to help develop public speaking and presentation skills.

The Trinity Awards banquet honoring the extraordinary acts of love and courage of: Laura Caldwell, Dallas Denny, Leslie Fineberg, James Green, Linda Peacock and Sharon Ann Stuart.

Lunch with Martine Rothblatt, author of The Apartheid of Sex.

Thursday, March 16

Workshops on anti-defamation programs, androgyny, becoming proactive in legislation and more.

The Annual Transsexual Pizza Party, an open forum for sharing concerns and laughter.

Friday, March 17

Memorial service for the transgendered people who have fallen this year, including Brandon Teena.

Workshops on leadership for wives and partners, female-to-male issues, newsletter creation and more.

Lunch with Holly Boswell, leader of Phoenix, talking on The Rainbow of Gender.

Saturday, March 18

The first National Transgender Political Caucus, bringing together leaders from groups such as National Transgender Education Action Coalition and Transsexual Menace.

The elegant Virginia Prince Lifetime Achievement Award banquet honoring Yvonne Cook-Riley.

Lunch with Callan Williams, noted writer, talking on Transgendered Pride in Action.

Who Should Attend IFGE Atlanta Action 1995?

Anyone who is active in transgender rights issues, including transgendered people, clinical professional, community activists and scholars who are working in the field of transgender should join us at IFGE Atlanta Action 1995. Leaders from all over the world have attended IFGE conferences to share their knowledge and views, learn how others are being effective in advocating for the right to freedom of gender expression and to join in the empowering energy of change that highlights this special week.

Social Events

The Atlanta Action Host Committee has planned a full range of activities, including tours and other formal events. Atlanta Gender Expression (AGE) is also sponsoring a special benefit performance of Gender Outlaw Kate Bornstein's The Other Sex is Neither on Friday night.

For many, though, the informal networking and gathering is the best part of any IFGE conference. By meeting and mixing with others active in transgender issues, they continue their own growth and often make fast friends for life. IFGE Atlanta Action 1995 is truly a place where a community comes together and all who attend are warmly welcomed by other understanding and caring people.

When and Where?

IFGE Atlanta Action 1995 will be held at the elegant Sheraton Colony Square Hotel in the heart of midtown Atlanta, from March 15-19. Come for the whole week, or just join us for the days you can. We promise lots of outside activities, fun and connection. Call now for full details, with no obligation. If your place is with the leaders, your place is with us in Atlanta.
