It really is true, you only get respect the old fashioned way, you work for it and earn it, RESPECT comes along with success. This can be said about the California Dreaming 94 event that was held at the Holiday Inn in Burbank in late April. I was especially thrilled because I was a part of this event. I did not play a major role but I contributed as so did many others. One hears about the community and our spirit and our commitment to doing positive things with our lifestyle. One hears of the bond that we all share in this. One can hear many things, but to see it, feel it, and be in it is the experience and an emotional ride. One thing about attending an event such as Cal Dreamin is that you really come to grips with yourself and I find that it is a major charge to my batteries. Patty Barton, Joan Goodnight along with Gina Glass from Born Free deserve a big thanks along with many others who deserve a thank you. I was told that many people had very complimentary things to say about the event. The folks from Boulton and Park who promote the Texas "T" Party told Patty Barton it was obvious that this was a community event and added that PPOC now has one of the best events in the community. Yes, all agree that after for us ladies the Cal Dreaming event is tops.

I would like to thank PPOC for asking me to be part of their event and thank who attended my "Coming Out for Singles" seminar. I hit the Queen Mary dressing room around eleven thirty and got "dolloed up" as we say. The ride over to Burbank was interesting as I got lost and had to ask a few people for directions. I think I made their day and one lady asked me where she could find that same dress I was wearing! The Inn was buzzing and I headed directly to the vendors rooms and found Jim Bridges. He did a little touch up on my make-up and presented me with a nice gift which was a black handbag to match my outfit. Thanks Jim!

I soon found Patty Barton (president of PPOC and Cal Dreamin Chairperson) and she directed me to the registration area so I could check in and find the room to hold my seminar. I then got all ready and killed some time chatting with a few ladies. I met a new friend whose name is Linda and this was not only her first convention it was her first time out! Well this was special and since she was very familiar with Epic and my Dealing with Coming Out series, we hit it off immediately. Linda had flown in from Australia as she has lived there and in New Zealand for the last twelve years. I had a wonderful time meeting and chatting with Linda and that evening we were at the same table for dinner. The seminar I held was a success with a group of over twenty ladies attending. I had the ladies pair off and interview each other and then we had introductions as each lady introduced her new friend to the group. We then had a two and half hour "pow-wow" where we discussed a wide range of issues that us men have to deal with as part of coming out in this lifestyle and society. Two things that got a lot of attention were using the ladies room and dealing with being stopped by the police. I enjoyed the experience so much that I am considering putting together a "Coming Out for Singles Seminar" that I can take on the road as they say. After the seminar, Linda and I headed to the bar to enjoy a cocktail and chat.

The theme for that evening dinner party was Mardi Gras with plenty of masks and feathers. We started off with cocktails from six-thirty to seven-thirty and then sat down for dinner. I have to add that in this hour dozens of rolls of film were used. If you have stock in Kodak or Fuji film you will see profits coming in soon! I took the opportunity to get in

"camera time" for TV Epic and hope you like the photos featured from the event. The accommodations along with the food and service were excellent. After dinner we had a speech by Gina Glass (Born Free's President) and the drawing for gift prizes were held. Yours truly won concert tickets for C & W singer Dwight Affairs. The rest of the evening was socializing and dancing along with plenty of camera time. I planned on attending the Saturday night Banquet but an emergency arose and I had to attend to personal affairs.

Kudos and hats off to all the folks at PPOC and to all who attended this event. I hope you realize that events such as these are for you and you really are missing the fun when you pass one by. Yes, my friends, this is the 90's and our time is now. Our time is at events such as Moonlight in Manhattan, Holiday En Femme and California Dreamin. Our time is today and tomorrow and next year at California Dreamin 95. I will plan on being there and I hope you will too.

I have some fun news for you ladies who live in the San Diego area. Local crossdressing group Neutral Corner is having an open house this month on July 31. The event is being held at the El Cajon Community Center, 195 East Douglas, El Cajon. Starts at 7:00 p.m. and the admission is free. The open house will include vendors from San Diego, Orange, and Los Angeles Counties, plus professors and instructors from University of San Diego, San Diego State University, University of California San Diego and Mesa College. Well along with all the input from the local colleges we are treated to a "Purge Auction" to start the event! So do bring something you want to donate and the proceeds can be kept by you or you can donate it to Neutral Corner. Door prizes are also on the list, so do consider attending. For more information contact Neutral Corner Voice Mail at (619) 685-3696 and leave name, phone number and message. I enjoy putting out information to you readers like the one you just read. I focused right from the start of finding news and information about our Transgendered Community and spreading this all who read this publication. I want to extend an invitation to all you ladies who are in a group and are having an event or party that you want to tell the community about. I need about three or four months notice in advance of your event and I will write about it in my column or put in the community calendar section that I put together. I heard that the Holiday Inn in Burbank has been contacted on behalf of the Southern California CD Community about putting on a Halloween Party on Oct 29. This is the fifth Saturday of the month, and therefore would not interfere with any group or party scheduled and also what a perfect time of year! Ms. Christine Hotchberg is presently doing the ground work in her normal hard working style, stay tuned.

I watched the program and at one point it showed a group of men on a weekend retreat and they were having a "meeting" after dinner. Seated in a circle out side under the moonlit sky they talked about themselves and their lives and shared what only men can share in the world. It hit me after the Dreaming event that his was very much a ritual of bonding. It was and still is a very emotional experience for me when I attend one of these events. We are in many ways so all alone in this event though there are others and I find that attending an event like I mentioned erases the blues. It is an uplifting ride of emotions that is satisfying and taxing. I find that as event ends, many ladies are tired and ready for the trip home. Yet there is something in them that is different. The change has come from the story session around the campfire. No, not really and you know that and the point is that once one attends a community event you find that you turn to glue. You stick right onto the fun and it is so exciting. Well I said that this was gonna be a Cal Dreaming issue and I find that I really did enjoy and learn a lot from the event.

I am pleased to say that my Dealing With Coming Out for Singles Seminar went so well that I am considering putting together the "show" and taking it on the road. Should you know any group or organization that would enjoy having me do a seminar please contact me. Another event that I want to tell you all about the parties at the Queen Mary. Every Friday night after the first show the club is featuring a dance party in the Front Room Show Lounge. Do join Melisa and I and all the ladies for a fun night of partying and dancing. The club is also features a "Birthday Party Night" on the third Saturday of every month as I understand a free glass of champagne and admission to the show are the listed treats. Do call the club for complete details on all events.

Ladies listen up! I am very pleased that this publication is being read around the world and I would like to feature a lady on the cover of this publication from every state in the union. We have had ladies from New York, Nevada, Texas, Indiana and the local California Girls have had their camera time. So get out your camera or photo book and pull out some photos. What kind of photos should you submit? Check out the cover photos from a few issues and this will tell you that. Pick out your two favorites and make up five by seven color copies for front cover ad back, Write to me at 1856 Cherry #608, Long Beach, CA 90806, and send me a small photo, SASE. I will send you forms and information for the lady on the scene profile.

It is a wonderful feeling to see yourself on the cover of a publication that is respected in the community. All the ladies that have been on the cover enjoyed the attention and compliments that they received. This publication is for you and wouldn't it be nice to be on the cover and show the world what a classy, sexy lady you are? So when you finish reading this column do get busy and make your goal to be on the cover of TV Epic.

This month we are featuring one of the most popular ladies in the east coast gender community. I met Jiovanna at the Moonlight in Manhattan event in 1993. I saw this wild woman tearing up the dance floor and I asked, "Who is that hot, wild child?" Jiovanna is a lady who puts new meaning to the word fun and she picks up the energy level any time she walks into a room. She is well known, respected and most of all, loved by all she meets. I am pleased to present Miss Jiovanna Alexis Towers as our July "Lady on the Scene." Jiovanna asked me to mention that all the happiness and success in her life is in the wonderful relationship she has with her boyfriend Frank. Best wishes to both Jiovanna and Frank and keep up the good work in New York.

The back bar at the Queen Mary show Lounge was packed as the Fourth Saturday night event continues to make an exciting evening. It was a very special night as this was the first official photo of the group of ladies that are now the core of the TV Epic writers. The people at Pathway that adding Miss Kelly Wise and Melisa Foster would give this publication a unique creative mix. Another special happening was that a number of "after the show" folks from the California Dreaming Saturday Banquet show by the communities own stepping out in Burbank were in abundance.

Lately I have been getting very positive feedback from you readers on the quality, ambience, and style that this magazine has recently featured in it's new format. I do enjoy hearing from you readers and comments, suggestions, and positive criticism is always welcome. I hope you enjoy the two page photo Fantasy fashion photo spread in this months edition. A few moths back I decided to put up party paper to cover the mirror where we set up the buffet. I think you will agree that the photos are looking better. Should you attend one of the QM events and want a photo for yourself or one to be published in Epic. So seek out Melissa or yours truly and we shall work something out.

This month the Queen Mary will be the place to be on July 11 as the place will be jumping as the annual 1994 Star Awards are scheduled. I and many of the ladies in the local community will be attending this event and I hope you plan to circle the calendar on the eleven spot. Richard the back bar bartender is going to see to it that a fun night will be had and I am looking forward to the buffet as Richard "does it up." For information on this event contact Richard at the Queen Mary or see the advert in this publication. I also want to mention that the club has added a number of new ladies and acts and I want to invite you all to enjoy the finest female impersonator revue on the West Coast. Yes, that show is at the Queen Mary Show Lounge and you can enjoy the songs and acts from many of Hollywood's most famous female celebrities in a fun place that is known all over the world. I also have to ask that when you finish enjoying the show, do drop in the Back Bar to check out the fun.

Best Wishes,
Marlayna

TIRED OF LOSING PICTURES?

WE HAVE A SOLUTION!

personal Stationary

We know how frustrating it can be to lose a picture by sending it to an irresponsible person or couple who neglect to return it. That's why Pathway Communications is now offering a special service for our readers which will safeguard your pictures from loss, and it's as easy as 1, 2, 3!

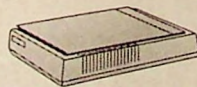

Here's how it works:

You mail us your picture(s) along with the attached order form, making sure to select the stationary and paper style you want. Remember: send high quality photos that are in focus and have good contrast and tone. The better your picture, the better your stationary.

We scan your picture(s) into a computerized format and convert them to gray-scale pictures, just like those you see in this magazine. We then place the images onto stationary that you can write on and mail to others.

Then we mail back your original picture(s) and stationary, with a complete black and white reproduction of your picture(s) on each and every one, along with any requested text information (such as a greeting, P.O. Box and/or a phone number). That's all there is to it!

Thanks for writing! You can reach us on weekdays after 5:00 at 408-555-5555. Our P.O. Box is 12345 Main. We look forward to hearing from you. Please include a picture.

At the last Fantasy Fashion Fetish Nite party, Miss Micki told me that now that she had the title of Fashion Princess at the Queen Mary, that it was going to be an effort and a half to take that tierra away from her. To everyone's surprise, the rare night that Miss Micki does not attend, we have Miss Danielle Alexis pulling out all stops to get the crown. Her killer two piece black latex outfit was definately the hit of the evening.

It was hot, but was not lethal like Miss Micki's last fetish fashion feast. Miss Micki keeps the tierra and she was right: it's gonna take a razzle-dazzle outfit to take it away from her.

Do check out the first official photo of the 1994 TV Epic editorial team. We will see you all this month on the 23rd. Thanks to Versatile Fashions for donating our monthly door prizes at this event.

GENDER expression

Over the last 30 years there have been a lot of changes in the way transgendered people come out and express their desired gender, here in the U.S.

When I first came out it was hard to find any information of anyone who knew much about transgendered people. Once in a while you could find an article in one of the under ground papers. But times have changed, there are organizations and support groups all over the world. There has been a lot of good and bad press in the newspapers, television, radio and a number of movies have been made. The fashion industry has been using transgendered models.

There has been a tremendous amount of research done over the past ten years that has helped writers to publish a number of good books about the transgendered community. Just the last few years I have come to realize that being transgendered is not exclusive to male to female. In my involvement in several gender organizations I have become friends with a number of female to male crossdressers and transsexuals. We all have our needs to be able to express our desired genders so I am going to share information about organizations, conventions, and other activities that are going on, to help TV Epic readers to learn more about the transgendered lifestyle and how they can come out and enjoy themselves.

I get a lot of calls from people who have no idea what this is all about and are afraid to express their feelings. They're afraid of the unknown or that someone will think they are a bad person because they have these feelings.

After reading my ad in TV Epic curiosity gets the best of some reluctant cross gendered individuals. I receive ongoing correspondence from these lost souls, seeking to learn more about this lifestyle. I offer as much information and help as I can because I had to make it the hard way and I feel that if I can reach out and help someone it will help our community to grow. I understand it's not an easy thing to become involved and understand on your own. My journey would have been much less pain evoking had someone shown me the way.

Some of the studies I've been involved in have revealed in various cultures that transgendered individuals are honored. We are viewed as having more of an understanding of humanity and its problems. It is very important for us to accept ourselves for who we really are and be able to express ourselves in our preferred genders. In doing so, we begin to realize who are and then we are making informed and honest decisions about our lives and how we want to live.

Making contact with other with the same interests is very important to someone who is coming out in the gender community, the publishers of TV Epic have put together a publication that provides good contacts and a lot of good information about the community and activities that are going on.

In future issues I'll be sharing with you some of the different organizations, support groups, and other materials that are available to help. If you have any questions or just want to talk you can contact me through my ad and I'll get back to you.

BRIDGES TO BEAUTY

Barbra called me for her first make-over and she was very excited about the idea. She had heard about the local scene and finally decided to see what it would be like to go to the Queen Mary on a party night. Barbra was traveling down from Santa Maria and was going to get a room at a local motel. I was surprised she arrived at seven thirty because the appointment was at eight. I took one look at her and I could not help but notice that a few of the ladies in the shop were trying not to stare at Barbara. It was obvious that she had not shaved for the occasion and this was the first place I started.

I asked her if I could talk to her outside for a minute, and we excused ourselves. I also picked up a new make-up sponge and took it with me. I told Barbra that it was fortunate that she arrived early explaining to her that I could not do a make-over on someone that needed to shave. I softly pulled the sponge across the cheek and asked her to feel the (I hate to use the word) drag that her beard had caused. I told her that one must get the closest shave possible to make it easier to conceal the beard and beard line. I feel that a close shave should be the first place one starts when preparing for a make-over. Many ladies start with an electric razor and then wash with warm water. This is followed up by a soaking of the beard with hot water and a combination of an inexpensive moisturizer. This softens up the beard and is good for the skin. Shave with your favorite shaving cream and try adding a little of that moisturizer. Follow up with a wash down with warm water and then hit your face with very cold water to close up the pores. Many ladies follow this with a good application of a top quality moisturizer, and then you're ready. Do remember that this is also the time to do any tweezing of your eyebrows and facial hairs.

Barbra returned a few minutes after eight and thanked me for the advice. I was happy to help and it is always a pleasure to help a lady that is new to crossdressing. Barbra was quite pleased when all was done and after taking a few photos she headed over to the Queen Mary. Ladies remember that shave, and also feel free to call me or drop in any time as I'm here to help you. Please do remember to call for an appointment should you desire a consultation and make-over.

I always tell my "girls" that it is important to keep in mind that beauty is not something that shows necessarily. It's real to each individual and when you take the time to create beauty on the outside, always let the beauty on the inside show too. Should you have any questions or comments please write to me with SASE or call me at my shop.

The pretty blossoms were filling the nightclub. They were colorful and their perfumed scent thrilled their admirers. I have watched their growth from the earliest seeds to the full flowers. "Flowers of all hue, and without thorn the rose" - Milton has said. These are the Queen Mary's American Beauties.

A person's identity is composed of many complex and simple facets. The obvious things are hair color, skin color, eye color, weight, height and the other physical attributes. These identifications are easy to determine and are seen by the casual observer. The more complex identities' people have are not so obvious and cannot be decided by anyone but themselves. Some of these identifying things are social, sexual, and spiritual. They are felt and believed, thought and imagined. I cannot see these things in someone without knowing a little more about them than a glance. This is where the person becomes more of an individual and has independent identities.

Independent, individual identity, that is what I mean when I say I and only I can determine who I am. This is an inalienable right that all have. The pilgrims that settle America brought with them law so social behavior can have some guidelines. This law was called common law and one of the common laws was that any person has the right to call themselves any name they wanted to and nobody can alienate them from this right unless the person is alluding debtors. This law was made so we can be free, free from name or identification that is uncomfortable. The name of slavery and servitude of persecution and injustice were not to be commanded and all have the right to identity.

Daniel Webster's dictionary defines all gender as "masculine, feminine, and neuter." So far I see three general identities, already giving us a broader spectrum than male or female. Male and female are physical but feminine and masculine are not anatomical. What is man and what is woman? I believe it is very subjective, each person has their own opinion. A scientist or doctor might say that the biological anatomical feature of function is what makes a man or woman. I can find valid argument against those determinations. Many men and women do not possess the same anatomical feature or functions and they are no less of either. A sociologist or psychiatrist would say it is the role or social status that make a man a man or a woman or a woman. Again there are true debates against those definitions as well. I contend that everyone has the inalienable right to self proclamation, the right to say who are they.

passion for fashion

The first thing that hit me when I arrived at the Burbank Holiday Inn for the 4th annual "California Dreamin" event was the variety of outfits that the ladies attending the event were wearing.

Most of the ladies were dressed in a conservative style with many sporting those flowery and so colorful print dresses that show up every spring. I even purchased one earlier in the week when Val Driscoll and I went shopping in Palos Verdes. I chose to keep it in the closet and picked my gray, black, and white long sleeve knit striped dress as I could wear it for my seminar and also to the dinner. Jim Bridges helped me tone down my make-up by replacing my scarlet with a bronze lipstick and outlined my lips with slightly darker pencil (and of course, Alex matched the nails). He then softened the metallic frost, telling me to save that for the evening look. Presenting me with a new handbag, I looked around and it was a "Fashion Festival", as all the vendors had their finest items out on display. The thing was, I had, alas sob, no time to shop as I had to get my seminar ready.

Christine was dressed in a two piece black chiffon outfit that was very tasteful and I hoped that she would follow through on this. During the seminar the issue of what to wear came up as many ladies found themselves feeling a tad of anxiety when choosing the right outfit. I told them that the fashion should be fun to me. It seems that fashion is really a major part of our lifestyle, yet I find that some ladies are very bewildered about where to start. When you come across the page that features the photos I took at the California Dreamin event, check out the photo with Christine and Dee Grady. Dee chose the country and western look with blue denim skirt and matching white blouse and boots. Christine is very much a eighteen year old Valley Girl and the rumor is that she is waiting for Paula Abdul to retire. Check out her eye opening, Paula, party girl look.

Patty Barton chose a multi color flowery print dress that was so appropriate and Jennifer was looking fine in her two piece leather outfit. Gina Glass, president of Born Free, was dressed to kill in a one piece black shimmery evening dress with metallic green skirt chaser. Melanie, from Neutral Corner, who is with Gloria from Encino, wore a conservative blue day dress that was charming and very flattering.

I love fashion and find that the ladies in our community are enjoying the fun in fashion. It is so much a part of our lifestyle! I hope you attended the event and you witnessed all the ladies in a fashion frenzy. I loved it and was so happy to be a part of it and it gave me inspiration and happiness that I find in the place I call passion for fashion.

Dealing with Coming Out

by Marlayna Lacie

Linda Turner flew in from New Zealand to attend the California Dreamin 94 event. She has lived in Australia for the last twelve years and is very successful as she owns her own business. Last year she had an incident that made her realize that one only goes around once and there are no second chances or shots at the championship. The bottom line is that this man found himself in his fifties and dealt with life and death and his mortality. This prompted him to come to terms with his feelings and his need to explore his interest in crossdressing and the transgendered lifestyle. He picked up a copy of TV Epic on one of his business trips and read my column and he also focused on the California Dreamin event. These things all prompted him to call Joan Goodnight on the PPOC hotline and ask her about the event. I feel that in many ways we find a way to give ourselves permission to do this. I met Linda when she walked into the room to attend my "Coming Out For Singles" seminar at the event.

During the seminar she talked about herself and told the group that this was her first time out. I was impressed with her poise, dignity, and adventurous spirit. She was going for it and this was her first time and she was enjoying it. Way back when, I had a few dear friends take me under their wing as they say. I decided that I would spend some flying time with Linda who was new to the skies and show her some of the places where one leaves behind that fear of flying. After the event we chatted at the bar and I picked up from her that she was still very nervous and unsure. I told her about my first time at the Queen Mary and I praised her for her courage. We talked about how so many of us, sooner or later, come to that D Day. That one time or period in our lives when the feelings and emotions must be addressed. My heart goes out to the man who buries those feelings. During dinner, she told me that she escaped that quiet life of desperation that so many men live. As many of you know that is one of my favorite lines and I use it often.

I have been out as they say for seven years and I am still learning new things about myself and my lifestyle. I find that an event such as California Dreamin is a must for me. I'm like you, I want to have friends that know me for the person I am and that will accept me and love me. We all need to be with our own tribe or community so we can be with others like ourselves. It does not make a difference if you have been in the closet for ten years or going to clubs and parties for twenty. Attending an event such as PPOC's California Dreamin event is something that you will enjoy.

I also want to add that for you ladies out there who need help with your crossdressing that PPOC is there for you. I will tell you that Joan Goodnight takes the Hotline calls and she will listen to you and give you help, information and advice. The phone number is (714) 779-9013 (9am to 9pm, pacific time). Tell Joan that your calling her because you picked up copy of TV Epic and read about PPOC in a series called "Dealing With Coming Out."
