ON THE SCENE NITE

On the Scene Night, entering its 5th wildly successful, year, is a night for girls to socialize and party. Marlayna Lacie & Melisa Moore welcome everyone to the world famous Queen Mary Show Lounge on the second Saturday night of each month. From the complementary snack buffet to the antics of the bartenders to the lively music, the atmosphere is electrifying!

Thanks to all those, from around the world, whose continued support has made On the Scene Night a night to be seen.

INFORMATION:

12449 Ventura Boulevard

7 usually have no trouble starting the first line for my column, but this was different. I was trying to come up with a sentence that would thank everybody who made the Fifth Anniversary On The Scene Nite Party a wonderful success.

You see, the kudos go to all who attended, and especially to those who have worked with Melisa and I try to see that these events are most of all fun and enjoyable. Hours before the party we were decorating the club, and I want to thank owner Robert and Mr. Richard for helping out.

I feel like one of those who get an award and want to give the credit to so many. Thanks to Pathway Communications, if not for them carrying on the spirit in which Epic and these parties were started, these special times would not be happening.

Pathway and just about every major vendor and specialty store donated gifts to be presented as "door prizes" and many people were so happy with these goodies. Plenty of TV Epic's, featuring our Queen Mary showgirl, Miss Monica Russo. The Queen was a rocking and I was running round and round as I wanted to be sure to get enough photos to put together a nice photo spread of this affair.

I have to add that recently I checked out half a dozen magazines focused on and directed at our community. I could not find one that featured a variety of photo spreads that are new every month with up to date personal ads and a variety of articles and columns that equals Epic. The reason for this is that I and many others involved in this publication and the events it promotes care about you readers. I want you to enjoy this publication and see for yourself that the transgendered community is well and growing and this publication is very much a part of that community.

The bottom line in all of this is to reach out and touch you readers and a connection. I am so happy that so many special friends attended. Melisa and I thank you all from the bottoms of our hearts.

I want to add that a very special person deserves to be mentioned for her dedication and hard work. For the last five years my dear friend Christine Hotchberg has worked with me in putting up the buffet and seeing to it that the parties run smoothly. Christine puts the big "D" in dedication and I will forever be grateful to her. Big Thank You to Christine.

Four hundred people plus agreed with Mistress Antionette when she announced to the crowd, "This is Fabulous!" Yes, the first "Dressed to Thrill" fetish extravaganza presented by Versatile Fashions at the Holiday Inn of Long Beach in late May was an event that will never stop being talked about.

In Europe there has been a growing number of "fetish balls" and the closest thing we had in our country was the "Dressing for Pleasure" affair on the East Coast. Mistress Antionette and the wonderful group at Versatile have changed that. They put the West Coast scene and the Dressed to Thrill event on the global calendar of events.

There were people who flew in from all over the world to enjoy and be part of this spectacular fetish fest. The world famous Club Domina folks attended bringing their own entourage. There was a large staff from the Playboy Channel and they were filming the action for an upcoming special. I sat back and enjoyed watching them film Santa Ana Sharon finish doing her eye make up and then lace up her black leather spike heel thigh high boots! The well known Mistress Vera from New York, who operates the "School for Boys who Want to Be Girls" attended and was accompanied by half a dozen of her devoted students.

Those boys were transformed into some of the sexiest ladies to attend the party as Val Driscoll from "Hair to Wear Wigs" was called in to do their make overs.

I could write my whole column about this party as I feel that this one will be considered the event of the year when all is said and done. I want to thank Mistress Helen, Reb Stout, Margo and Jim Thompson for being there for me. You see, I was in severe pain that night as I may need surgery for my left foot for bone spurs. It was hell for me in heels but I still enjoyed the event and worked the door. Big Thanks to Rick for relieving me so I could check out the Fashion Show which was spectacular.

I am going over to the Versatile offices this week and plan to talk to Reb Stout about getting some photos for Epic and I also plan to congratulate them on the success on the event. I am sure they will be busy getting together the video that they will be putting out. So if you missed the party you can still enjoy it at home when you get your copy.

I have to mention that the show featured a whole new line of fetish wear that is featured in the new Versatile Fashions catalogue. One great thing about Versatile is that no matter where you live you can write or call in and order your favorite items and Mistress Helen will see to it that it is shipped out to your pronto.

Fifteen years ago I picked up my first copy of Kinky Contacts when I lived in Boston. Since then I have always been a fan of the magazine and an admirer of Mistress Antionette. I recall that it was a dream of mine to someday meet this lady and be involved in this exciting lifestyle. Well, as you all know I do believe that your dreams can come true. Your fantasy can very much become your reality and one thing about Versatile Fashions is that they make that fantasy a reality and do it with class and style.

I wrote in my last column that the Dressed to Thrill affair would be an event that you would want to attend. I can now say that I was right on, and I hope you were fortunate enough to be there. Congratulations to Mistress Antionette, Master Zorro, Reb Stout, Jim Thompson, Margo, and I want to send a big hug to Mistress Helen. I want to add that Cindy Anderson, Miki Belanger and Danielle were involved in the production of the shows and they should be proud of the success of the event. Word is that there may well be a Dressed to Thrill II in the Spring of '95. I will be sure to fill you in as soon as this rumor is confirmed.

We are now featuring a very special treat on the second Saturday monthly OTSN party. At every party Jim Bridges Boutique will be presenting a "Cinderella Make-over" to one of the ladies attending. An appointment will be made for you at the Boutique and you will get the VIP treatment. Jim will also have photos taken of you that we will feature in Epic. I am very happy with the cooperation that I receive from Jim and many if not all the businesses that cater to our community. It is a small world and the good things that people do are talked about.

People are talking about the new format that Epic is now featuring and the growing number of writers that have joined the Epic team. It was decided that it was time for this publication to spread it's wings and get plenty of air time and camera time. We have many talented people in our community that have important messages and information.

Kelley Wise has been featured in this publication in the past and the positive response to her was overwhelming. I asked Kelley to consider writing a column that would focus on and address issues that transsexual persons have to cope with. Her column "Trans-Talk" is getting rave reviews from all.

Melissa Foster was on the scene way before I was & she has garnered the respect from her peers around the world for her contributions to our community. She is presently on the board of I.F.G.E. and now featured in this publication.

Jim Bridges is the most famous beauty specialist in the country and his reputation is impeccable. There are very few ladies out there you have not heard about Jim and his boutique. The man travels around the world and is featured in just about every major national event in the country. I was pleased when this publication expanded and he submitted a nice amount of material to be published. His monthly column, "Bridges to Beauty" is featured in this publication and will be in the future.

I am growing, as is the community, and I am happy this publication is finally starting to strut its stuff. I want to add that the bottom line in all of this is to present to you readers a top quality, and most importantly, enjoyable publication that focuses on and presents the positive aspects of our transgendered community.

Last year I first heard of the San Diego based Neutral Corner Cross-dressing group. They had recently started doing projects with LA's PPOC. Word was the Neutral Corner was a fast growing group that offered a lot to their local community. Ladies in the San Diego area, I want to fill you in a little about the group and it's agenda... Neutral Corner meets every 4th Saturday at 7:30 pm. They meet at the King's Inn at 1333 Hotel Circle South. After the meeting many of the ladies go to the 11:30 drag show at the "Escape" at 421 University Avenue.

As you all know, I do the party at the QM on that same Saturday, so I have not been able to attend a meeting. I did receive a copy of Reflections which is the groups monthly newsletter. Lots of info on the group and it is a resource that all you ladies in the San Diego area should have.

One more thing I want to mention is that for you folks in the San Diego area the new place to go is Peacock Alley, located at 1271 University Ave. The Reflections Newsletter had a full page revue on the show, and they gave it a thumbs up revue. Seeking an evening of wild entertainment? The "Alley" is the place. Oh, before I forget - to contact Neutral Corner, write them at: POB 12581, San Diego, CA 92112.

Peggy Rudd asked me to pass on the new information on this year's Dignity Cruise V. Due to popular request rather than doing the Riverboat trip on October. The plan is the sail from Los Angeles to Baja on August 5-8 and the carrier will be Royal Caribbean as the staff has been so nice the "ladies" in the past. Peggy has an open number so call her at [REDACTED]. This will be the last Dignity Cruise as Peggy recently was elected to the leadership of her local Tri-Ess chapter and she will be devoting her time to other projects. I have been an admirer of Peggy as she has been on her scene for a few years and has been working hard to present fun events to ladies in her local community and to ladies such as myself who do not live in her area.

Ok ladies, here is the reunion for this month's parties and events that I want you to focus on. Starting off the Queen Mary Show Lounge on the 13th we have our very successful "On the Scene Nite" party at the Queen Mary and on Friday night the 12th one can attend the Dance Party that is held every Friday night.

The third Saturday of the month which is the 20th is party time in Orange County and the Valley as this night I present my Dinner party at the Manhattan and then head over to Executive Suite for the Club Cher Chez La Femme Suite Saturday Dance Party. This is also celebration night at the Queen Mary as this is designated Birthday night. Free admission and a color photograph with friends and stars of the show along with entry for a drawing which will feature a bottle of Moet Chandon champagne.

4th Sat. night is the night to wrap yourself up in your hottest skin two & head down the QM to attend the wild & wicked Fantasy Fashion Night.. Recently we've featured some interesting door prizes donated by Versatile Fashions.

I also want to mention that PPOC meets on the 3rd Saturday night and Born Free meets on the 2nd Saturday. I have many ladies approach me or write me asking this information so I hope this helps.

Love & Peace,
Marlayna

TIRED OF LOSING PICTURES?

WE HAVE A SOLUTION!

personal Stationary

We know how frustrating it can be to lose a picture by sending it to an irresponsible person or couple who neglect to return it. That's why Pathway Communications is now offering a special service for our readers which will safeguard your pictures from loss, and it's as easy as 1, 2, 3!

Here's how it works:

You mail us your picture(s) along with the attached order form, making sure to select the stationary and paper style you want. Remember: send high quality photos that are in focus and have good contrast and tone. The better your picture, the better your stationary.

We scan your picture(s) into a computerized format and convert them to gray-scale pictures, just like those you see in this magazine. We then place the images onto stationary that you can write on and mail to others.

Then we mail back your original picture(s) and stationary, with a complete black and white reproduction of your picture(s) on each and every one, along with any requested text information (such as a greeting, P.O. Box and/or a phone number). That's all there is to it!

Marlayna and Melisa will see you on the 27th.

Hey Marie, love that smile!

The Back Bar was SRO as the holiday weekend made for party fever and it was a "Girl's night out" if ever there was one. Kris was in seventh heaven from her first make-over at the skillful hands of Val Driscoll from Hair to Wear Wigs. She also scored the first of two door prize gifts graciously donated by Mistress Antonette and Versatile Fashions Boutique. This month's gifts were copies of the English fetish publication Skin Two, which went to Kris.

A copy of Kinky Contacts was a door prize gift for Master Larry and Mistress Judy.

Thanks to Versatile for the gifts and special thanks to boutique manager Jim Thompson for his help and advice. We shall see you all in the finest fetish fashion from your wardrobe on the fourth Saturday of this month, which will be the 27th in the Back Bar of the world famous Queen Mary Show Lounge.

It's George, providing security for us ladies.

GENDER expression

Expressing your gender is more than putting on a dress, applying some makeup and putting on a wig. So many people think that is going to do it, but when they really try to get out and express their gender, they find it's a lot harder than they thought. The word "passing" is used by a lot of people, thinking if they look like a woman, they can go anywhere they want.

I have been out with people who looked absolutely gorgeous, but when you get them out to a public place they think everybody is staring at them because they know that they're not a real woman. Really, most of the time when someone is looking at them, they are admiring their beauty, but because the ones are being looked at are so self conscious, they think those around them realize they are something else. That is the problem.

A study I participated in were to go out and girl watch, and then come back and talk about it with the study group. The conclusions of the group were that women who are average looking seem to have less problems being out in society, while girls who were ultra beautiful or had a weight problem seemed to be self-conscious. But there were women who were out without makeup and had rollers in their hair who didn't have any problems. The conclusion of the group was women who accept themselves have fewer problems out in society. So if someone who is transgendered learns to accept themselves for who they are and learn to deal with life's problems, will have a much easier time when they go out. A lot of people say they accept themselves for who they are, but deep down inside they haven't.

It took the longest time for me to realize who the real me was, but when I did, I found I could go out anywhere, and if there was a problem, I would deal with it. A lot of the transexuals who have had the surgery and find that it isn't what they thought it was going to be are people who have not made that true acceptance, and then they end up having serious psychological problems and sometimes it has pushed them as far as suicide. That is one of the reasons that the requirements to have SRS are so strict, and may be made even stricter.

This is one if the biggest problems in the transgendered community today, that people have about transexualism, or their friend is a transexual so they must be a transexual also, so they want the surgery. Everybody is different and we all need to find out where we fit in. Learning to express yourself helps people to realize where they feel comfortable. There are a lot of good professionals out there who can give you a lot of help in finding your true self. Don't just run to the first person you see in the phone book. Call around and find out if they deal with others who are transgendered people. Several of the major transgendered education organizations have referral services for professionals and also many local support groups have affiliation with a local professional.

There are also a lot of good books and periodicals out there that have good information that is very helpful in learning more about the transgendered lifestyle. In future articles I plan to get into some of the organizations, books and professional groups that are out there, but if you have any questions, feel free to drop me a note, using the address in my personal ad, and I'll get back to you with an answer.

Five Lively Years

I felt that we could have an event here in California and were sure it would be big. I had no idea that after five years the event would become the biggest social event the transgendered community has had. The conventions were great for some and they offered many things for the participants, but On the Scene wasn't a convention; it is a night for partying and socializing. There are no seminars or self analysis forums. It was merely a night to celebrate.

T and I told her that there were several people there from all over the country.

At this event the Queen Mary was decorated to the nines, balloons and streamers floated about the ceiling. The place looked like a New Year's celebration. People came from all over to congratulate the successes of OTSN.

Many were there for the first time and many more were there from the beginning; we have appreciated them all. There is a statement that has been made by the community with the success of the party: We are a valid and valuable lifestyle; we are here to stay.

Throughout history, the pendulum has swung for the community, from in and out of the public's eye. I believe with this ongoing interest we have validated the T in many people's minds. What is the T? The Transgenderal, Individuals who display behavior opposite their birth orientation. Let me explain - at birth a person is oriented to a gender based upon the anatomical features of a male or female. This is important for the doctor to know so they will do the appropriate examinations and make sure bodily functions work and are in no need of extended care. From this time forward you are expected to behave in a social pattern established by the majority of either group. The behavior is either encouraged and supported or rejected and chastised depending upon the social acceptance of the group. Some involved in this behavior have sexual motivations and achieve gratification from acting on their feelings. Others are merely expressing a part of their social suppression, and even others are exhibiting the behavior of their true identities. Each is just as valid and no judgments are made about anyone. There you have it - your birth orientation regardless to your social, sexual, spiritual identity.

Male or female - these designations are only appropriate when discussing the person's birth. The identity is made of the whole. If we were to look at the hand, the whole hand is made of several parts; no one finger makes the hand. The length of nail or amount of skin does make a hand more of a hand. The whole identity is made of several things also and the birth orientation does not make this whole; it is a part just like a finger on a hand.

What are man and what is woman? I think it is very subjective. What am I? is the real issue. If we peg hole everyone, to say because you look like this or have that you must act like such, then that is the basis for prejudice and bias in its most fundamental form. The civil rights that started in the sixties with racial issues, then women's rights in the seventies went into the eighties with gay rights; it's now in it's final frontier for the nineties, individual rights. Individual rights will be the issue for this decade, the right to life with abortion issues and the rights of how we live our lives and then deal with euthanasia. Your right to choice that is what freedom is all about. On the Scene Night is an expression of your freedom. I thank everyone who has contributed to the T for making the last five years, five years that will remain in my heart for all the rest of life.

BRIDGES TO BEAUTY

Monique was pleased with her make over, and when we added all the little touches; you know, a new pair of earrings that matched her black velvet two piece outfit and a ring a bracelet, she was delighted.

Before Monique left I asked her to sit down and take a good look at her new "feminine image". She told me that she was very happy and thanked me for doing such a good job.

I then told her there was one or two more things we could do that might add a nice touch. This piqued her curiosity and she asked what I had in mind.

I pointed out to Monique that her eyebrows were much too full. They could use some shaping and defining. I expected her to be opposed to the idea, but to my surprise she asked me should she use tweezers, a razor or have them removed through electrolysis?

I told her that all of these methods work and she would have to decide which one she liked. I then pointed out that she might consider shaving the area between her eyebrows to really highlight them.

Ladies, this also goes for the upper lip and area under your nostrils. It is very important to shave or tweeze these areas to smooth out your palate. It may not sound very ladylike to discuss; however, this is a very important area most people seem to forget. After spending an hour on creating beautiful eyes and luscious lips, nothing will spoil the moment like a six inch nose hair. It never ceases to amaze me how many ladies never seem to notice this area; everyone you speak with does!

Once you have shaved close, tweezed the stray brows, and checked the nose hair, it's time to prepare your palate. I mean your nice smooth face.

Now is the time to give yourself a facial. This is a simple process of putting on some kind of skin mask. This sloughs off the dead skin cells and gives your skin a healthy glow. You should always allow yourself plenty of time to get ready.

After you washed your mask off, pamper your skin with a little moisturizer. Allow the moisturizer to be thoroughly absorbed before putting on your foundation. Ten to fifteen minutes is generally enough time.

I find that most ladies will do anything within reason when it comes to making themselves look good. When one looks in the mirror and likes what one sees, there is a very special chemistry that is happening. I find that taking the extra time and extra effort makes the experience so much more enjoyable for my "gals".

For you ladies who are out of town and cannot make it to So. Cal. or who cannot attend one of the conventions, do consider contacting me about my instructional video that will allow me to teach you how to do your own make over at home.

One thing I tell my "gals" is that there are no rules in make up, and that what works for you is most important. Good luck and do write to me with any questions or comments or call me at the boutique.

passion for fashion

I plan to take a course at the local college titled, "The History of Fashion". I write this column in the memory of former First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis.

I was a teenager in those first dream days of the Kennedy Presidency. There was a special feeling that better things were coming and his wife was changing fashion history.

I recall that women all over the country changed their wardrobes overnight. When Jackie hit the White House, she had practically no wardrobe at all. Designer Oleg Cassini was asked over for lunch and Jackie asked to find a "look" for her.

He presented her with a philosophy of quiet sober elegance. As we all know, everyone copied her. Mr. Cassini said of her, "I always considered her to be an Egyptian Princess. She had an architectural look - wonderful shoulders, long waist, the kind of figure that could carry a dress."

At the time I was not aware of Coco Chanel and haute couture fashion, but I certainly noticed Jackie when she wore that great outfit with that pillbox hat. Not long after, singer Bob Dylan wrote a song about a "pillbox hat".

Soon all of Jackie's clothes were being worn by ladies around the country and another exciting thing was happening - the fashion capitol of the world had been in gay Paris for years; now all the top designers were flying to Washington to dress the wives of politicians.

There were parties being scheduled every week and new dresses and outfits were being featured. It was a veritable fashion fest with the Fashion Industry loving it. To me and many, Jackie seemed to have it all as she had been a former debutante and attended exclusive East Coast schools. To top it off, she marries a man who becomes the President of the United States. Aren't these the types of fantasies that go along with playing with a Barbie doll. The truly captivated the world with her style and grace.

Camelot was to come crashing down, and she showed us what she was really made of with her courage in a terrible situation. She conveyed a permanent sense of class that we shall all remember her for.

She changed a fashion history and our countries, and if ever a lady had a passion for fashion, it was Jackie.

I realize more and more that as I was growing up I was taking in all I could about feminine behavior. Sort of like making a mental library of femininity that I could someday have as a resource. Long before I had the pleasure to see Marlene Dietrich in one of her movies, I was checking out Jackie who was a true fashion princess.

I decided that when I wanted to write a series of articles on fashion, that it would not be a "Ladies, this is what's going on this season" format. I found that in college that fashion affects us every day in our lives and we really do not focus on it that much.

Fascinating is the mode that we humans have found so many ways to cover ourselves and express who and what we are. Next time you're looking through a woman's fashion magazine, look for the name Coco Chanel and when you see it say a little prayer for a very special lady who gave us so much.

This piece is dedicated to Jackie as it was said, "She was too young to be a widow, and too young to die."

Dealing with Coming Out

It was a little after ten and a small group of us had just finished dinner at the Manhattan. We were chatting. I was taking photos, and we had a cocktail for the road. I mentioned to Kelley that I was surprised that more ladies were not coming to have a nice dinner. She looked at me with a smile that said so much and reminded me that many ladies were "afraid" to attend a dinner such as this!

I was confused as over the last three years I have had many ladies verbalize to me their feelings of "all dressed up and no where to go". I assumed that if an event was put together that gave ladies an option other than drinking and dancing that the interest would be high. I knew that there would be the possibility that this event would not be the SRO crowds with a line at the door.

I knew there was a risk that it would not work and I recalled some words of wisdom from former President Richard Nixon. He wrote on Taking Risks: "Without risks, you will suffer no defeats, but you will also win no victories. You must never be satisfied with success, and you should never be discouraged by failure."

I am wondering why many ladies do care to attend public events. Someone very close to me and well entrenched in this community told me that she had a theory about this. She felt that many men really feel deep down inside that they are doing something wrong. They cannot escape that religious type guilt trip that secretly tells them silently, "you are being bad and do not deserve to be treated with dignity and respect." Along with this was the idea that many saw support groups as a message that "Yes, it was true, and people like you only should be in places where 'You should be'."

So as I am still coming out and dealing with my relatives, friends and neighbors along with many other people, I want to understand not only my feelings, needs and wants, I am interested if they are like yours as we are all in this together. In my Coming Out for Singles Seminar at the last California Dreaming presented by PPOC, I started off by informing the group that I did not want to be tagged with the label of being an expert. I told them that I had been coming out for years and had been writing a series about the issue that we as transgendered face in what we do call the coming out experience. Once you are an expert you then set yourself up for being one of the "chosen" ones. Once you say the wrong thing or cannot answer a question you lose your credibility.

I told the ladies I was dealing with coming out as I was standing there in front of them presenting my first seminar. I have learned a lot recently from the experience I have had putting together these events.

So I ask you to do a little soul searching ladies and focus on what you want, need and most of all expect when you put on those leather lovelies and find cloud nine after Jim or Val has done your first make-over.

Where do you want to go and where can you go in your local area? Do you feel that starting by attending the meeting of a crossdressing group such as PPOC, Born Free, or Neutral Corner is right for you? What about coming to an On The Scene Nite Party or the Club CherChez La Femme Suite Saturday Dance party?

Let's see you might consider coming out at an event such as Esprit '95 or California Dreaming '95. We had two ladies attend the Manhattan Dinner and this was their first time out. They are special and I am saddened that I will be canceling this event due to low attendance.

Ladies, when you decide to come out there are many things to consider and one of the most important is finding a place to go that is right for you. This alone can be on the tops of your list of things to focus on when dealing with coming out.

TRANS TALK

with Kelley Wise

Transgendered men that wish to become women are faced with quite a few physical obstacles which must first be met before sexual reassignment surgery can be approved. The extent of which that is desired by the SRS surgeon varies with each individual. The main criteria is that the subject is believable and able to live as a woman.

Approval is subject to whether or not this procedure will benefit the patient or harm them. This change should make you better able to handle your life than if you hadn't had a sex change. Would you really be happier as a woman? How would your family and friends react? Would they accept you? If you are fully matured male and have led a typical male life, it may be harder for your friends and family to accept you as a woman. If your physique was always slightly feminine, or maybe you looked a little too androgynous or too pretty for a young man or boy, your friends and family may already think of you as being feminine. Parents and friends would be more accepting of a transition if you already had obvious feminine traits. You could have been born with a chromosome imbalance that might predispose you to this situation.

If your childhood or formative years contained episodes of crossdressing or feminine behavior, you may be a transsexual. An idea candidate is the young man that is regularly mistaken by strangers for a woman. Many boys grow up suppressing girlish behavior very early because their parents are very effective at conditioning gender roles and discouraging any sissies. Our society seems to place a higher value on males and views men turning into women as a kind of gender demotion.

Nobody really seems to mind when a girl is a tomboy, or when a woman prefers pants; but try being a man and doing anything to look like a woman and you are labeled a freak. In this day and age people still make a big deal out of any form of male to female transgenderism. Male to female transexualism is considered quite exotic. Many straight macho guys don't quite know what to think about it. Some would say that a TS was never good enough to be a man anyway and deserves to be a woman, with all the perceived shortcomings they imagine women to have. Most men will not admit it, but they prefer to admire transsexual beauty from the privacy of an adult bookstore or the intimacy of a bar or club that caters to transgendered. Many men find that having sex with a shemale is a comfortable way to deal with homosexual or bisexual desires. In many cases these men don't have the same interest or respect that they had for the shemale after going SRS. Then they feel they are the same as a woman and therefore have no special sexual appeal.

To make the difficult change of living as a woman, it is often preferable that the M-F TS does not stay at the same job or associate with the same friends. Most of your past friends will still think of you as what you were, and treat you as such, even unintentionally. The result is you having your old self constantly resurrected and standing in the way of complete acceptance as a woman. Besides, who wants to be the object of curiosity and gossip. Or when exposed, subject to ridicule or harassment. Better for the new woman to blend into society and not be known as a transsexual. Our world is not yet ready to fully accept the third sex, or people that have crossed the gender barrier. Have patience, things are getting better.

Take care.
