

Only Half Of The Message

I'm writing a letter in response to the recent article printed on transexuals. I feel the article got only half the message across about the plight that we are fighting.

Such as the difference between a transexual and a transvestite. About starting an organization called TAP (Transexuals Are People.) The immense job discrimination against transexuals and how many people in the gay society do not relate to the problems that a transexual encounters.

Another item not brought out was other famed transexuals like Jan Morris, Holly Woodlawn, April Lawton, Elizabeth Coffey -- and the misspelling of names like Carol Boyles and Amanda Lear.

What had started out as a page story dwindled down to a few paragraphs of misspellings and mis-information. And a good blow like "An Iowa farm boy."

It shows the Barb to be sexist and prejudiced. It would rather print smut and show asses and tits to sell itself rather than print the basics about a reality to society. Now not even the Barb will do an honest job.

I do hope you print this, although you probably won't because it's from a transexual not a massage parlor ad.

Thank you,
Ginger Coleman
