In the area of gender dysphoria, there is a clear and unambiguous "rite of passage" which separates the seeker from the changed. This rite of passage in M-F and F-M genderal/sexual change is achieved with sexual reassignment surgery (SRS). Based on currently accepted Standards of Care (in conjunction with the DSMIII-R and medical practice), the SRS point of reference provides the new woman or the new man with a definable life embarkation point.

This "rite of passage" and ensuing life perspective, problems, and post operative learning can be shared in a setting of harmonious unfolding. Precisely this outcome was achieved with awesome results in the first New Woman's Conference held in Essex, MA in 1991.

All post-operative (SRS) former M-F transsexuals are invited to attend this "rite of passage" at the Second Annual New Woman's Conference.
