Dear Dr. Coleman:

Nice talking to you on the phone. I have lots of stuff for you. First, on the biece paper, is the first issue of FTM in which we mention your study. I've also established contact with another "bisexual" (but mostly gay) F-M named Jeff in Glendale, Calif. and gave him your address/phone.

Please use this letter as my written consent to publish a "case study" based on our recent interview in San Francisco. Per our conversation, I would appreciate a chance to "proof" the article previous to publication.

In addition, this letter serves as my written consent for you to release information given in the above-mentioned interview to Ray Blanchard of Toronto's Clarke Institute of Psychiatry. I do plan to answer Blanchard's letter to me and will send you a blind carbon copy of my letter.

As I mentioned on the phone, I have an appointment to see Ira Pauly at the Univ. of Nevada, Reno, October 12. I will mention to him during that meeting that you are writing a "case study" on me. Pauly sent me an abstract entitled "Transsexualism, Gender Dysphoria and Transhomosexuality," by Dorothy Clare, Senior Psychologist, The London Hospital St. Clement's, Bow Road, London E3 4LL, U.K., and I enclose a copy herewith for your information.

Also enclosed are the following personal letters of reference:

- 1) Feb. 29, 1980, from Wardell B. Pomeroy, Ph.D.
- 2) Oct. 26, 1982, from George P. Fulmer, M.D.
- 3) Nov. 19, 1982, from Edward Falces, M.D.
- 4) Mar. 6, 1986, from Mary Ellen Sullivan Hanley
