The Amazing Appeal of

THE CONNIE GIRL

If you never watch TV, go to the movies, or read magazines, you might be unfamiliar with The Connie Girl.

Otherwise, you're well aware that Connie gloriously appears every week during the introductory segment of "Saturday Night Live", that her lip-synching segment (along with Princess Diandra and Raven, Oh!) was the smash highlight of "Slaves of New York", that she's one of the fabulous superstars of New York's nightlife, and a top model besides.

When Connie enters a crowded room all attention immediately focuses on the long-legged seductress. Virile young men trip over each other as they attempt to be the first to light Connie's cigarette, buy her a drink, remove her coat, whisper sweet nothings into her ear...

Connie's eye-catching outfits and stunning good looks have caused shutterbug stampedes, and her picture has appeared in magazines all over the world from Splash to Details to Project X. Her exotic beauty has led to many plum modeling assignments, and her runway work includes Andre Walker and Bodymap.

Both her solo acts and appearances with the band, Planet Muff, are enormously popular, especially at The Boy Bar where she is one of the resident "beauties." Her interpretations of Donna Summer, Grace Jones, Minnie Ripperton, etc.

always receive thunderous applause, and her multitude of devoted fans grow larger with every performance.

For many, all this attention might cause a swelled head. Connie though, remains remarkably sweet, and quite unaffected at reaching the often dizzying heights of fame. Connie is a lovely, warm person, and this of course is the secret of her success.

It takes true talent and character to become a well-respected and much loved star such as The Connie Girl, especially in a competitive city like New York. More than a sex symbol, Connie is also a dazzling entertainer and personality, willing to share her wonderful gifts with an adoring public.

PROVES IT!

LOOK!

Bumping and grinding her way through a steamy music video, hot new singing sensation Little Whitney Houston proves she's no ordinary pop star - she's gay!

To the lyrics, "Gay sex is great sex," the action moves from soundstage to bed where hunky co-star, Juan [redacted] finds out that Little Whitney is a super foxy drag queen. This discovery drives Juan mad with desire, and the two begin to make passionate love.

"I'm so SEXcited about the video," pants Little Whitney. "I hope everyone has as much fun watching it as I did making it," she says, batting her big brown eyes.

Little Whitney poo-poops right-wing moralists call for Sprite, her soda pop sponsor, to drop the controversial video. "If Sprite says bye-bye," she giggles, "We can always get a condom manufacturer."

"But I strongly defend the video. We of course had safe sex and I'm not advocating people sleep around - I certainly don't. I just wanted to show others how fabulous gay sex can be."

Reports that she and Juan's on-screen antics have led to a real life romance are unfounded says Little Whitney. "We're just good friends," she smiles. "Right now I'm just too busy to settle down with one man."

Her immediate plans include recording a duet with her good friend, Madonna, and portraying Lady Godiva on Broadway. As far as making more sexy videos, Whitney coos, "Ooooh of course, baby. Just turn those cameras on and you know I'll be ready."
