CHINESE RIOT.

Theater on Second and Alder Streets Almost Destroyed Last Night.

A riot broke out in the Chinese theater, at the corner of Second and Alder streets, last night at about 10 o'clock, that would probably have had a serious, if not futal, onding, had it not been for the timely ar-rival of officers. Word was sent by tele-phone to police headquarters that a riot was in progress at the place mentioned, and immediate assistance was asked for. Knowing the desperate nature of riots that break out in Chinese theaters, Dotectives Griffin and Simmons and Officers Parker and Collins were dispatched to the scone. Upon arriving there they found the street in front of the theater entrance crowded with excited Chinamen, while upstars there was an uproar that indicated that a tuere was an uproar that indicated that a battle of some kind was going on. The officers succeeded in working their way through the crowd, and getting on to the second floor of the building, where the trouble was. They found over 100 China-mon there, most of whom were fight endeavoring to demolish furniture in the room. all ing and of the furniture in display of police stars and clubs brought the fraces to a termination, and then a general scramblo for an exit took place. Two of the leaders of the riot were polated out to the officers, and they were arrested and taken to the station, where they gave the names of Tow Dong Chue and Don Bow. The other Chinanam were allowed to go, but they followed the officers down to the jail, and for two hours afterward Second street in the vicinity of the station was crowded with not less than 500 jabbering Mongolians. Joe Shue, proprietor of the theater, came to the station shortly after the arrests were made and preferred charges of disorderly conduct against the two men. He stated mane and preferred charges of disorderly conduct against the two men. He stated that the trouble arcses from his employing an actor who was distasteful to some of the others. Chus and Bow are both actors, the former being a female impersonator. They declared that the new man should not go on the stage, and when the curtain pose they may a signal and the wish bases rose they gave a signal and the riot began. Friends of the prisoners, however, tell a different story. They say that Joe Shur is several wcoks in arrears with salaries. Several of the actors struck last night and deciared that unless money was fortucom-ing there would be no show. When the ing there would be no show. Ing there which so no on, they adopted the American plan of resorting to violence. They succeeded in breaking up the show and wrecking the interior of the theater. Several.men were injured in the melee, but none seriously. The fight had just fairly commenced when the officers arrived and put a stop to it. All the benches were torn up, broken and thrown out into the hall-ways, and the scenery and stage fixtures rained.

The loss will be heavy on Joe Shue, but he stated last night that he would patch up the place and resume business at the old stand.